

What is a good life for you? How would you describe it?

In your good life, who is in your life? What are you doing or not doing??

What are your goals?

Do you have any problems? If so, what are your problems?

Have other people told you that you have a problem? If so, what did they say?

What would you like to do about your problems?